Colleagues,

Living Beyond Breast Cancer, (LBBC), Young Women's Initiative is one of our partners funded under DP1111-11, "Developing Support and Evaluation Awareness for Young (<45) Breast Cancer Survivors."

LBBC's Young Women's Initiative recently launched two videos as part of their "Let's Talk About It" Video series. The new videos, "Financial Impact of Breast Cancer" and "Body Image: Tips and Truths," cover topics relevant to young women affected by breast cancer.

The "Let's Talk About It" Video Series was launched in 2013. The short online videos feature the perspectives of young women affected by breast cancer and their healthcare providers. These unique videos are engaging and share women's advice, struggles and humor. The first three videos, which were released in August 2013, are titled "Let's Talk About Sex \(And Breast Cancer\)," "What Young Women Should Know About Bone Health," and "Hear Me: Communicating With Your Healthcare Team."

Please consider sharing these videos with the young women that you work with in your programs through social media and other platforms. For more information, please contact Arin Ahlum Hanson, LBBC's Manager of the Young Women's Initiative at arin@lbbc.org or 484-708-1546.

Have a great day,
