

FDA and Scholastic Youth E-Cig Prevention Resources for Schools

FDA's Center for Tobacco Products collaborated with Scholastic to create youth e-cigarette prevention resources for middle and high schools. CTP created social media content to promote the new materials.

POC: Sarah Reichle; ctpohcesocmedia@fda.hhs.gov

Images:

- Twitter
- Facebook

For Retweeting and Sharing:

- Center for Tobacco Products Thread
- FDA Acting Commissioner Thread

Twitter

- FDA worked with Scholastic to develop lesson plans, infographics, and other resources for high schools and middle schools on the dangers of youth e-cigarette use. Learn more and download the materials: <http://www.scholastic.com/youthvapingrisks/> Download and attach [Twitter Image]

Facebook

- FDA and Scholastic joined forces to develop new youth e-cigarette prevention resources for schools. Educational resources, such as lesson plans and activity sheets, are available to help middle and high school teachers start educational conversations about the harms of e-cigarette use. <http://www.scholastic.com/youthvapingrisks/> Download and attach [Facebook Image]